BUTTER

The perfect place to find that glamorous outfit for a special evening, Butter is the place to head to if you are in urgent need to dress up and head out. Funky jewellery, bags, shoes and accessories are all easily available at this quaint little store located in the bylanes of Bandra. Set up by stylist Nitika Dheer in 2008, the store also stocks collections by Indian designers like Karen Fernandes, Pournima Menon and Ameesha Khanna. Dheer personally sources her international collection of dresses from countries like China, Turkey and Thailand—and what's more, you can rent one if you don't want to buy. If you don't find a dress or accessory of your choice then bring a picture of what you want and Dheer will make sure it is customised to your preferred cuts and designs.

THE HAB STORE

A haven for budding designers, fashion aficionados and for those who sew as a hobby, the Hab store is a Bandra landmark. Set up by Usha International Limited, it is a first-of-its-kind store in the country which not only retails sewing goods but also teaches interested clients the art of sewing. The Hab is short for Haberdashery—a Scandinavian concept for a shop where one can buy sewing merchandise while learning the art as well. Add glamour and beauty to your clothes, upholstery of any other piece that you are sewing with their wide variety of sewing accessories like sequins, threads, beads, buttons, borders, zippers, brooches, laces, wool and much more. They also sell do-it-yourself sewing kits that help you design and sew at your own pace.
